Defendants HTC, AT&T, and Verizon have been, and now are, directly infringing claims of the '325 patent, including (for example) at least claim 7 of the '325 patent, by or through their testing, making, using, offering for sale, selling, and/or importing of HTC devices (e.g., the HTC Vivid and HTC Jetstream, sold or otherwise provided through AT&T; the HTC Rezound and HTC Thunderbolt, sold or otherwise provided through Verizon) configured to operate on a communication network (e.g., an LTE network) and extract a timing signal from data communicated over the network.

Additionally, Defendants HTC, AT&T, and Verizon have been and now are inducing and/or contributing to direct infringement of at least claim 1 of the '325 patent by selling or otherwise providing HTC devices (e.g., the HTC Vivid and HTC Jetstream, sold or otherwise provided through AT&T; the HTC Rezound and HTC Thunderbolt, sold or otherwise provided through Verizon) configured to operate on a communication network (e.g., an LTE network) and extract a timing signal from data communicated over the network.

46. On information and belief, each of AT&T, Verizon, and Sprint have purchased or otherwise obtained from HTC devices for sale, resale, and/or distribution to their customers that are the subject of Counts I, II, III, and/or IV. Thus, for these Counts, the right to relief against AT&T, Verizon, and/or Sprint is asserted jointly, severally, or in the alternative against HTC.

47. The alleged infringement of counts I through IV arises out of the same transaction, occurrence, or series of transactions or occurrences relating to the testing, making, using, offering for sale, selling, and/or importing of the HTC devices that are the subject of Counts I through IV.

48. Questions of fact common to all defendants will arise in this action including, for example, infringement by HTC devices.

49. Thus, Joinder of HTC, AT&T, Verizon, and Sprint is proper in this litigation pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 299(a).
